MOTHER SUES BRIDE OF PRESTON GIBSON TO GET FURNITURE

Mrs. Benjamin Says Goods
Were Loaned to Former Mrs. Pratt.

Mrs. Anne R. Benjamin, mother of Mrs. Preston Gibson, has started replevin proceedings to recover various articles of furniture she says she loaned her daughter several months ago, before she married Preston Gibson. The furniture is now in the Harmon Storage Warehouse Company's building, No. 211 East 10th Street, where her daughter, who was then Mrs. Alexander Dallas Baché Pratt, placed it when she gave up her home, No. 1140 Park Avenue, last September. Mrs. Benjamin, after filing a bond of $40,000 with Sheriff Knott yesterday, obtained a writ of replevin, which was served on the storage company by Deputy Sheriff Conlin. It has the effect of temporarily transferring the ownership of the furniture to the Deputy Sheriff.

In her application, Mrs. Benjamin placed the value of the furniture at $20,000, but its real value is estimated at four or five times this amount.

Mrs. Benjamin alleges that she lent the furniture to her daughter under an agreement that the loan was to be terminated at demand. When her daughter gave up her home a few weeks ago, she had the furniture stored under her own name. The case will be tried in the Supreme Court.

POLICE CLUB JEW BAITERS.

Break Heads of Gang Rowdies in Vienna.

VIENNA, Nov. 4 (Associated Press).—Sharp clashes between the police and gangs of rowdies occurred Sunday as a result of numerous cases of Jew-baiting, and many heads were broken.

For several Sundays bands of young toughs stood on bridges and insulted or manhandled Jews in orthodox garb. Sometimes the Jews were accompanied by a bodyguard of young Jews, in which cases fights were frequent. The situation became such yesterday that the police had to intervene.

SALOONS ARE CLOSED DOWN AT ATLANTIC CITY

Liquor Dealers' Association to Prosecute Violators of Wartime Prohibition Law.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 4.—Saloonkeepers here last night went on a strike, and it will remain in force until wartime Prohibition has been lifted. This action followed a stormy meeting in the afternoon of the Atlantic County Liquor Dealers' Association, of which all the licensed liquor dealers in this city are members. Thomas Williams, their President, said after the meeting: "The majority of us concluded that there is no profit in handling near beer. We find it is most unsatisfactory to our patrons. If the license holder is open he is selling something besides this 'near beer' the law permits us to pass over the bar. Saloons will sell near beer as a mere camouflage to enable them to supply something else with more of a kick in it."

"While the strike is optional, we intend to take whatever steps are necessary to complete the obedience to the law. The honest retailer cannot exist on the sale of near beer. It has been tried and proven that this is a failure. Therefore we will proceed on the theory that no saloon can honestly remain open and our counsel, with detectives, will make investigation and prosecution wherever violations are discovered."

"SUPERMAN" BREAKS JAIL.

Wanted to Attend Funeral of Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 4.—Police officials throughout Connecticut were warned to-day to watch for William Frederick Schuetz, a former resident of Manchester, who escaped from the Tolland County Jail, where he was the sole prisoner, in what is believed to be an attempt to attend the funeral of Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Schuetz had worked his way from Kansas and while awaiting a chance to speak to the authorities at her home at Short Road, Branford, entered cottages and stole food. He was in jail when the news of Mrs. Wilcox's death reached him. Two years ago he told Mrs. Wilcox he was the "Superman" mentioned in her writings, and when she did not believe him he plundered cottages in the vicinity of Bolton.

Accused of Swindling, Gives Up. CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—John Stroeder, alleged leader of a band of confidence men recently implicated in a $10,000 stock swindle and who had his headquarters in Atlanta, Ga., surrendered to detectives here yesterday. Arthur Mitchell, a Chicago broker, one of the victims, alleged he was swindled out of $10,000, the deal being arranged in Atlanta. Stroeder's operations are said to have netted him nearly $200,000. He was paroled recently from the Joliet Penitentiary.
